CLUBS MUSIC WOMENS WORK

Be Generous.
We never know the greatness of each other.
How good, how true each fellow.
Friend and brother.
We cannot read all hearts.
Nor see the pain that hurts.
Nor grilling trials that try our lives to smother.

We seldom see the view-point of a stranger—
For one is born in another's wage.
We all must speak and act—
But 'tis plainly proven fact—
We never know our conduct facing danger.

We never can guess the outcome of a day—
Nor do we know what price we pay—
The dawning of tomorrow—
May hide a chilling sorrow—
Be generous to your neighbor—help
—and pray.

MARY SMITH BAKER—April 11, 1921.
